

Troubleshooting: nginx-proxy

Unit 3.4.3

Troubleshooting the nginx-proxy Service

The nginx proxy exists so that non-controlplane nodes can reach the services in the controlplane without knowing which node they're on or what IP they have.

If this service isn't running, other nodes won't be able to communicate with the kube-api-server container.

References

Troubleshooting nginx-proxy -

<https://rancher.com/docs/rancher/v2.x/en/troubleshooting/kubernetes-components/nginx-proxy/>