

Cluster Roles

Unit 3.1.5

Cluster RBAC Within Rancher

When you create a cluster, Rancher sets you as the Cluster Owner. You can add additional users and assign them the role of Cluster Owner, Cluster Member, or a custom permissions set.

- Cluster Owners have full control over everything in the cluster, including user access.
- Cluster Members can view most cluster-level resources and create new projects.
- Selecting Custom presents a list of roles that you can assign to the user.

Users with cluster-level membership can see and interact with all projects on the cluster. For greater control over what users are allowed to see and do, configure access at the Project (namespace group) level.

References

Cluster Membership -

<https://rancher.com/docs/rancher/v2.x/en/cluster-admin/cluster-access/cluster-members/>